Jacquelyn Thompson, a Bradley descendant, is a sixth generation Texan, born in Houston and grew up in Normangee, Texas. She attended University of Texas, Sam Houston State University and now lives in Bryan.

“Sabine Crossing” revolves around Letty Bradley, Jacquelyn’s great-great grandmother. Jacquelyn researched extensively the actual events, court documents, the family lore and has pieced together Letty’s story, also the history of the Bradley family in the early days of Texas.

Independence Coffee Co of Brenham, Texas

Independence Coffee Company prides itself on roasting one of a kind coffees and hand blending gourmet teas from the best growing regions throughout the world. Independence Coffee was founded in 2003 by Ragan and Christi Bond. Both are trained in selection, procurement and the roasting process. Over 60 varieties of coffee are offered, many of which can be found in Whole Foods Markets in the Texas region, Bed & Breakfasts, select HEB stores and many other retail locations.

The company has won numerous awards: Business of the Year 2003-Washington County, Texas Department of Agriculture’s GO TEXAN Matching Award 2006. Articles relating to Independence Coffee Co. have been published in the Brenham Banner Press, Texas Highways, Bluebonnet Electric Magazine, Insite Magazine, Live Magazine, Austin Chronicle Travel Section and numerous others.
